Slow performance in Studio when using Red Giant Particular

- Pinnacle Legacy

In some cases you may notice a slowness or sluggishness in Studio when using the Red Giant: Particular plugin. This is especially true if you increase the size or amount of particles. Here are a few things to note about working in Particular:

1. Your Particular animation will not render in real time because it is very computation heavy.
2. Most of the Particular presets will have a slow playback when you preview the animation.
3. Depending on your computer's specifications, Particular will play back slowly and you will have to wait for Studio to render the effect.

For best preview results, wait until the background rendering has fully completed. This may take a while if the settings have been adjusted upward.
