

Roxio Creator Starter will not launch after a system restore

- Creator NXT

If you have your Roxio Creator Starter installer on disc, please insert it and try to perform the repair again.

If you do not have your installer, you can reinstall Roxio Creator Starter through your systems software recovery manager application.

Please be sure you have updated your security/anti-virus software before installing. If you still have issues launching the software after installation, temporarily disable your security/anti-virus software and reinstall.
