

[Legacy] Do PhotoShow 5 users still have access to the Roxio PhotoShow website

- Corel Other

Note:

The Roxio PhotoShow Premium service reached End-of-Life (EOL) status on December 31, 2020. The Roxio PhotoShow app is no longer supported. You can find more details here.

PhotoShow 5 users have a one year premium membership to Roxio PhotoShow. This account can be created at RoxioOnline.com. This membership begins on the day of purchase and expires one year later. PhotoShow 5 can author and publish shows to Roxio Online (formerly PhotoShow.com).

Once your membership begins, you can upload shows of up to 400 photos and share them through PhotoShow 5.

To continue using the Premium after the year membership has expired, PhotoShow 5 customers are encouraged to upgrade to the Roxio PhotoShow Premium service - which includes the Roxio PhotoShow desktop application (PhotoShow 5's successor) that seamlessly integrates into Roxio Online's look and feel.
