How do I register my product?

You may register your product the following ways :

- To register online, go to https://www.corel.com/corel/account/registerProduct.jsp and you may need to login to your Corel.com account then just provide your serial number to complete this process.
    - To register Roxio products, click here.
    - To register Pinnacle products, click here.
- You may also register by phone by contacting Corel Customer Support Services. You will need your serial number to complete this process. A full listing of contact numbers can be found here.
- You can also register from within your program. Upon installing the program, you should be prompted to register online. If you do not complete this step, you can register later, using the steps outlined above. Again, you will need your serial number to complete your registration.
